

SCHOOL TRACK AND FIELD MEN IN ACTION NOW

Interscholastic Championships in Progress at Alexander Field This Afternoon

The track championship of the interscholastic league is to be awarded today. At 2 o'clock on Alexander field the four schools—Mills, St. Louis, Kamehameha and Punahou—meet to battle for the big honor.

This is the second school meet of the year—exclusive of the A. A. U. meet held last Saturday. The first meet was the Cornell relay games, held two weeks ago on the Kam field. Kamehameha won this meet, which consisted largely of a cross-country run and four relays. That meet, however, was for a cup offered by the Cornell Club of Honolulu. It did not figure in the track championship.

The interscholastic championship of this afternoon is the climax of the track season. The schools are showing keen interest in it, and the school members will be present in a body. School spirit and demonstration will be rife; special songs and yells have been prepared by the various organizations. There should be the largest gathering today ever seen at a track meet in Honolulu.

All the events should be close. The fans are not expecting many records to be broken, though some of them may be. In previous years there have been two or three men to stand out as stars. This year there are a large number of practically equal men, none of whom is a particular star.

On the whole, the best men are distance and middle distance men this year. In the mile, Carey, Machado, Brandt, Awana and Chin Lee Puck are all first-rate; in the middle distances Smith, Sueoka, Bertelmann and Carey have quality. The leading sprinters up to date are Gay, Hill, Mitchell, Baptist and Fernandez. The hundred and the two-twenty will be keen races between Gay and Fernandez or Hill. Dower, Austin and Kim Wal are all running fast hurdles.

Ken is strong in the weights this year. With Innan of Punahou out of it, Ken should take first and second places in the shot put. The jumps and pole vault have been going to Lindley of Punahou up to date, but Fernandez of St. Louis will probably do himself proud in the broad jump, and Brown of Punahou and Hips of Kam will give any one a hard time.

All in all, the spectators are promised a thrilling meet without a dull event. The games committee has been at pains to see that every preparation possible be made to insure a smooth, frictionless meet.

The following table of records has been prepared to show the class of the school competitors as compared to those of the A. A. U. (including the army) men. It shows that the school men are superior to the A. A. U. entrants. As a matter of fact, many of the A. A. U. records were made by men while they were attending schools in the city.

Event	Interscholastic Meets	Record
100-yard Dash	F. McKemle	10:1
220-yard Dash	T. Hore	23:0
440-yard Dash	J. M. Watt	52:2

ALL-CHINESE AND ALL-ARMY TEAMS PLAYING

A ball game between the All-Chinese team that leaves for the Orient April 2 and the All-Army team that will enter the Oahu League race this season is scheduled for this afternoon at Athletic Park, 3:30 being the time set.

Both teams are putting a strong line-up in the game, which should be well worth while. For the army aggregation, Easter will do the hurling, while Nelsa Kan is scheduled to pitch for the Chinese.

The army team will sport new uniforms, which are some class.

SAWED OFF SHORT

The films of the Ritchie-Rivers fight at the Bijou are of considerable interest to ring followers. The battle on rollers is also a clever stunt, that gives the audience some real thrills.

A trans-Pacific yacht race without a Hawaii entry will be something new, but it looks as though this would be the situation this year. No move is being made to raise money for refitting the Hawaii and there seems to be a small chance of the local schooner getting into the race.

Tomorrow is the last day on which final-round matches of the Stewart event can be played, and the golfing contingent will be out in force this afternoon and tomorrow, clearing off the card. The Country Club course is fast and dry now and the weather has been still and low scores have been the rule. A little rain, and the usual trade winds, and the men who are reeling off their rounds in the low seventies will find their cards on the high side of 80 again.

The Travelers got trimmed by the Portland Coast League team at Freeland Thursday, according to press despatches. The score of 13 to 4 indicates what kind of a game it must have been. T. and C. Moryama are given as the pitchers who were treated to this bombardment. One trouble with the present Travelers is that they are weak in the box. A road team that is playing games almost every day should have a staff of at least four men, and apparently the only really reliable twirler with the Travelers is Apan.

The Norwegian steamer Frey, which arrived at New York, reported a large ice field and numerous large icebergs off Cape Race.

Will Be Repeated Tonight for Last Time—Audience Sees Sports Program

Declared by critics of the mainland to be the best fight film ever produced, the Ritchie-Rivers motion pictures, shown at the Bijou theater last night and to be repeated tonight, lived up to their advance reputation. Showing 11 rounds of fast and furious fighting with several scenes in which it looked as though the lightweight championship was about to change hands, the film proved a rare treat to the "fans" who gathered at the Bijou last night, although their number was small. However, it is almost a certainty that the film will be packed to the doors tonight when the balance of the followers of the game learn of the excellence of the films.

This picture will be repeated at the Bijou theater tonight for possibly the last time, as it is in great demand on the other islands and at the military posts and it will be started on its little journey at once. Anyone who missed it last night, especially lovers of the night game, missed a rare treat and should take advantage of tonight's opportunity.

In conjunction with the "carnival of athletics" the Bijou management is staging quite a novelty in the shape of a "stationary" bicycle race—at least at times the riders are stationary. Bike riding on rollers appears to be a real trick, and the efforts of some of the riders to keep going afford a barrel of fun for the spectator. William Jay easily beat Lincoln Aches last night.

COUNTERFEITERS TO BE SHOT WITHOUT TRIAL BY MEXICANS

MEXICO CITY.—In an effort to check the widespread activities of counterfeiters, the Mexican authorities are making a special round-up of these criminals who, when caught in the act of making the bogus money, are to be shot without trial. Coinage has long since disappeared, even the despised copper centavos having been hidden away for safe-keeping, so that paper cents, dimes and twenty-cent pieces, together with dollar and half-dollar bills are the exchange units of everyday transactions. As this money is made on the ordinary printing press, the temptation to make bogus money has been too great for many to withstand. It is estimated that millions of dollars in counterfeit paper are now floating about the republic.

SUNKEN TREASURE HUNT IN ERIE CANAL

ROCHESTER.—Before water is let into the Erie canal near Palmyra, in May, the Horace Van Sandtvoort Company of Rondout will ask permission to send a steam dredge to a point near Pittsford, to dig up muck on the bottom for $10,000 in gold, lost from the good scow Bridget Finnegan in 1832.

The Finnegan struck a rock and sank after turning turtle, and the captain's savings were buried under wreckage at the bottom. He spent six months vainly trying to recover the money.

Horace Van Sandtvoort is 80 years old. The son of the captain of the lost Finnegan gave him the exact position of the sunken boat and, under an agreement, will get half of the treasure if it is recovered.

It is believed that the work will take only a day or two if a powerful dredge can be brought to the proper spot.

TRAINING CAMP LIFE ONE LONG LINGERING HOLIDAY

Judging by the glowing descriptions that filtered up from Jesse Willard's training camp, it must have been a sad blow for that aspiring pugilist and his retinue to break camp and start for Havana. The routine drudgery of training seems to have been conspicuous by its absence, judging by the following description of the camp, written for the Chicago Daily News by Tex O'Rourke, Willard's sparring partner:

CAMP WILLARD, Knoblauch Ranch, near El Paso, Tex., March 2.—A prominent newspaper man recently asked Manager Tom Jones how he kept his boys from spending their spare time around the city. The reply was: "I don't keep them; I only makes it as pleasant out here as possible and let them take their choice."

The fact that we have passed only two evenings in town during the several weeks since camp opened, and that both these trips were at the request of Jones himself, speaks well for the attractiveness of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

To begin with, Charles F. Knoblauch has lodged us one of the finest homes in this section. The house is roomy and comfortable and the view out across the Rio Grande valley, with the mountains for a background, is beautiful. The pure air and hard work have given us all good appetites, and the meals are so excellent that we take no chances of being out of hearing when the bell rings.

Every one is out of bed at sunrise, which fact, coupled with the strenuous routine, has a tendency to make the bed seem very inviting about 9:30 at night. "Regular fellow" will start out if he has to get home by 9:30. Most of us have moved our beds on to the big screened veranda, where we can get the full benefit from the healthful night air. After scrapping the morning frost off our faces and ducking under a cold shower we feel fit for almost anything.

After the morning run there are three hours to loaf around before lunch. Sometimes we get the guns and go out to the sand hills for rabbits. There are plenty of cottontails and we have a chef who knows how to fry them to a turn. We have some kind of game for the table every other day.

Our friends over in Mexico keep us supplied with venison and bear meat and the native hunters bring us quail every week. A few days ago we put two dozen live quails in the coop to fatten, but they did not do well, and after one or two died Jesse let them out. That night they came back to roost and we now have a flock of tame quail to add to our list of amusements.

Sometimes we fill in the mornings playing baseball or tennis. Three of our party have played professional ball, one is an ex-collegiate tennis and basketball champion, two are runners with records and one is a crack shot and golf expert—in fact, all are athletes who have starred in other lines before adopting the pugilistic profession.

If Jones wanted to enter a team to compete in all round track events he could count on the following scores, providing, of course, we each could live up to our registered performances:

100 yards—Jones, :10; Willard, :10 4-5.

220 yards—Willard, :22 1-5; Jones, :22 3-5.

440 yards—Jones, :49 2-5; Savage, :51.

880 yards—Monaghan, 1:50.

One mile—Monaghan, 4:32.

Five miles—Jones, 27:31.

Ten miles—Jones, 1:02:00 2-5.

220 yard hurdles (3 feet)—Willard, :29 2-5.

Broad jump—Hempel, 10 feet 3 inches; Savage, 10 feet 1 1/2 inches.

Hop, step and jump—Savage, 44 feet 4 inches.

High jump—Hempel, 5 feet 8 inches.

Sixteen pound shot put—O'Rourke, 47 feet 11 inches; Monaghan, 44 feet 6 inches.

Sixteen pound hammer throw—O'Rourke, 148 feet.

Last night at Kakaako hall the Beretania and the Star-Bulletin indoor ball teams split even in a double-header, the Bulletin Midgets winning by the score of 25 to 23 and the Bulletin Juniors losing 20 to 23. Both of these games were won and lost in the last inning and were interesting from start to finish.

In the first game between the Midget teams the Beretania players showed to the best advantage in the early innings, but with the ending of the fourth the Bulletins seemed to get their second wind and from there on began the uphill fight that with the final inning rally gave them the victory.

For the Bulletins, Ah Tyau and Ah Chong played the best game and Much Sung and Ah Tong starred for the Beretania.

Score by innings: Star-Bulletin.....2 4 4 3 2 4—25 Beretania.....5 1 3 0 2 0—20

The unsteadiness of Jen Fui was the cause of the Junior Bulletins losing the second game, when he had men on the bases. Paul, who pitched the last three innings for Beretania, did very well, holding the Bulletin boys down while his team-mates came from behind and won out in the last inning by scoring five runs.

Kong Hui at first and Ah Han behind the bat for the Bulletins played the best fielding game. Kong Hui made four great number catches and Ah Han cut off two runs at the plate by very fast fielding. Ken Kong led both teams with the bat, getting five hits out of five times up, one of them being a homer. Ah Kaw and Ho Chow did the best work for the Beretania. Both games were very fast and interesting from start to finish.

Score by innings: Star-Bulletin.....4 7 0 4 1 0—20 Beretania.....3 0 7 1 4 4—23

This afternoon the Star-Bulletin and Kakaako Clubs cross bats for the last time in the Games hall of the Y. M. C. A. and the Beretania and Korean teams meet on the Beretania grounds at the same time.

KILLED BY BRIDGE AS HE STOLE RIDE ON TRAIN

[By Latest Mail] PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—When the Royal Blue flyer, bound for Washington from New York, stopped here the baggage master saw the body of a man on top of one of the Pullman coaches.

The man had been dead half an hour, and at first it was suggested that he had been murdered and dropped on the coach as it passed under a bridge.

Investigation convinced the authorities that the man had been stealing a ride on the coach and had struck a bridge, crushing his skull and knocking him down in such a way that the body remained on the roof of the coach.

In the pockets of the dead man were papers leading to the belief that he was L. Chamberlain of 128 West One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street, New York, and that he had been out of employment for some time.

"Wasn't it fearful about the Reims cathedral?" "Don't say Reims; it sounds horribly ignorant." "Well, how do you pronounce it?" "Why, Hranas." "How?" "Hn-Hranhas! Just as if you were clearing your throat. See? Hranas!" "Well, you sound as if you had a dreadful influenza, threatened with grip!" "Well, that's right, anyhow. Hn—hnh—hrrahhah!" "You'd better go to Arizona! You'll never get well here. I don't believe you, anyway. Everybody says Reims." "They don't either." "They do so!" "Oh, well, it depends on the sort of people you associate with." "Well, I don't go with a lot of fake highbrows, anxious to show off the French they learned in a course of lessons by mail."

"Better than a lot of country junks who don't know how to pronounce." "Oh, well, the church wasn't hurt much, anyhow." "No; they say it can be repaired. How do you like my hat?" "Heavenly! What do you think of mine?" "Adorable. Let us go and have soda." "Let's." Carolyn Wells in The Woman's Home Companion.

NEW TYPE OF COACH IS FOUND

Cry For Speed Brings Out "Never Was" Handler.

LIKELY TO COME ACROSS TOO

Rowland, New Manager of Chicago White Sox; Rush, Who Was Recently Made Coach at Princeton, and Zuppke Never Made Good Performers.

BUSHERS ON TOP.

Manager Clarence Rowland of the Chicago White Sox never played major league baseball. Coach Robert Zuppke of the University of Illinois football team was unable to "make" the Wisconsin eleven when a student there. Coach John H. Rush of Princeton university football team never played on Tigers when an undergraduate there.

Sport appears to be in for a new deal. Dope is getting a square knockout and is taking the count with scarcely a murmur. Old time customs and prejudices are shattered beyond hope of recuperation.

Winning combinations in sports, the same as in other lines of human endeavor, must have speed. Take opposing combinations: be they football eleven, dry goods houses or snowball armies, of equal strength otherwise the one possessing the edge of speed and drive will win.

We all remember when a football coach was supposed to be a star player while a student. Likewise a manager of a major league team was expected to be a bear of a diamond artist while in the regular harness.

These days are passing. We are approaching a new deal. If a man has the correct idea of speed and drive and can teach the same, he is the one most likely to get the job nowadays.

As an example we point (with pride) to Messrs. Rush, Rowland and Zuppke. Rowland was never more than a Class B manager until Owner Comiskey, hearing of his success as a speed merchant, kept him in mind and gave him the biggest job in his catalog when the time came around.

At Peoria Rowland gave his squad a world's record in stolen bases by controlling his efforts on speed.

Bob Zuppke jumped from a high school coaching job to the directorship of a Big Nine championship in the space of two years. He countered his efforts on speed and dazzling plays which baffled entirely the opposition. The Illinois system of plays in the hands of a slow eleven would have been a joke and a cause for excessive laughter. But with speed behind them they were sure shots.

At Cleveland John (Speedy) Rush has been coaching a high school in various lines of sports these many years. He got the nickname of Speedy long ago and has kept it ever since. He has likewise put the same spirit into his high school players and teams. They were winners.

Comiskey, in looking for a manager to produce a winner, passed over working known stars and selected an unknown whose middle name was Speed.

Illinois, desiring to get out of this on football rut, went past these who were only all American stars in big teams and got a chap who never set worlds on fire as a player, but could develop speed in others.

Princeton, hopelessly in the ditch from a football standpoint, gave the once over to numbers of men who were nationally famous as players, but selected John Rush, the boy with the punch.

Of course, Zuppke alone of the trio has made good a the new job. The others haven't had their chance. But they have been selected and there's no use prejudging them as failures. They are more than likely to come across. For the speed is there.

INTERNATIONAL POLO TITLE

North and South American Teams to Meet at Meadowbrook.

Despite the war conditions in Europe, international polo will not be abolished in the United States this year. Arrangements are now being made for a contest of more than national importance on the Meadowbrook (N. Y.) grounds next summer. It is proposed to go to South America for an opponent and arrange a series of matches between a team representing the United States and the Argentine Republic. The Hawaiian team have already been asked to play at Meadowbrook, and if they do, which is quite likely, these matches will be played at the same time.

The series with the Argentine Cross, in England, will be known as the Pan American championship. Players behind the LYATION ARMY. Joshua Crane, Thomsen, are held in the Cowdin, Louis, Stocky Hall on Nuuanu street. Whitney, Malcolm, Merchant and Queen street. Caux Milburn apws: Tuesday, Wednesday. It is proposed, Saturday and Sunday competition at 3 o'clock. challenge cup, play School at 10 a. m. and North A. ng. People's meeting at 8 p. m.
